Do you have an innovative or breakthrough project related to the Duchenne field that you wish to share with the global community?

Submit an E-Poster abstract for the 2022 edition of Duchenne Patient Academy. Selected authors will be invited to virtually present their E-Poster during the event taking place on December 1.

Submit your abstract

The poster session will provide an opportunity for patient organizations and researchers to present and discuss innovative projects in the field of Duchenne and Becker muscular dystrophy. Selected E-Posters will be accepted for virtual presentation at the 2022 Duchenne Patient Academy.

The following category selections will be available:

- Care and therapies
- Data and registries
- Learning and education
- Social and behavioral

Anyone who has a project with an innovative approach or breakthrough outcome is encouraged to submit an abstract for consideration. Abstracts that solely describe research methods, are focused on medicines research and development, and/or are of promotional nature will not be accepted.

Read the submission guidelines
